

Transform your core business operations to rapidly adapt to the constantly changing market, in a cost-effective and disruption-free manner, with Unit4 Business World and Capgemini's transformation excellence.

Many organizations across a wide range of sectors struggle to optimize their back-office business impact and – as a result – face a variety of challenges including:

- Rising operational costs and growing inefficiencies
- Limited or no business growth
- Little or no resources or budget to innovate
- Reactionary approach to market swings
- Costly and clumsy integration of acquisitions.

Forward-thinking organizations can address these challenges by collaborating with a pre-eminent Business Process Outsourcing (BPO) player like Capgemini and software expert like Unit4 – developer of Unit4 Business World, the market-leading Cloud ERP solution. The result is streamlined key processes that enable organizations to refocus on what they do best.

BPO is what drew us to Capgemini ... but our relationship has expanded way beyond outsourced BPO to systems hostings, applications support and consulting."

Jeff Rutherford,
Ferro CFO

BPO Built for Multiple Processes and Industries

Your business needs can be met by personalizing and configuring Capgemini's BPO services. We can deliver either a purely BPO-centric service portfolio, or manage your entire application and infrastructure aspects in a "stack" configuration. Our service portfolio covers every angle, including:

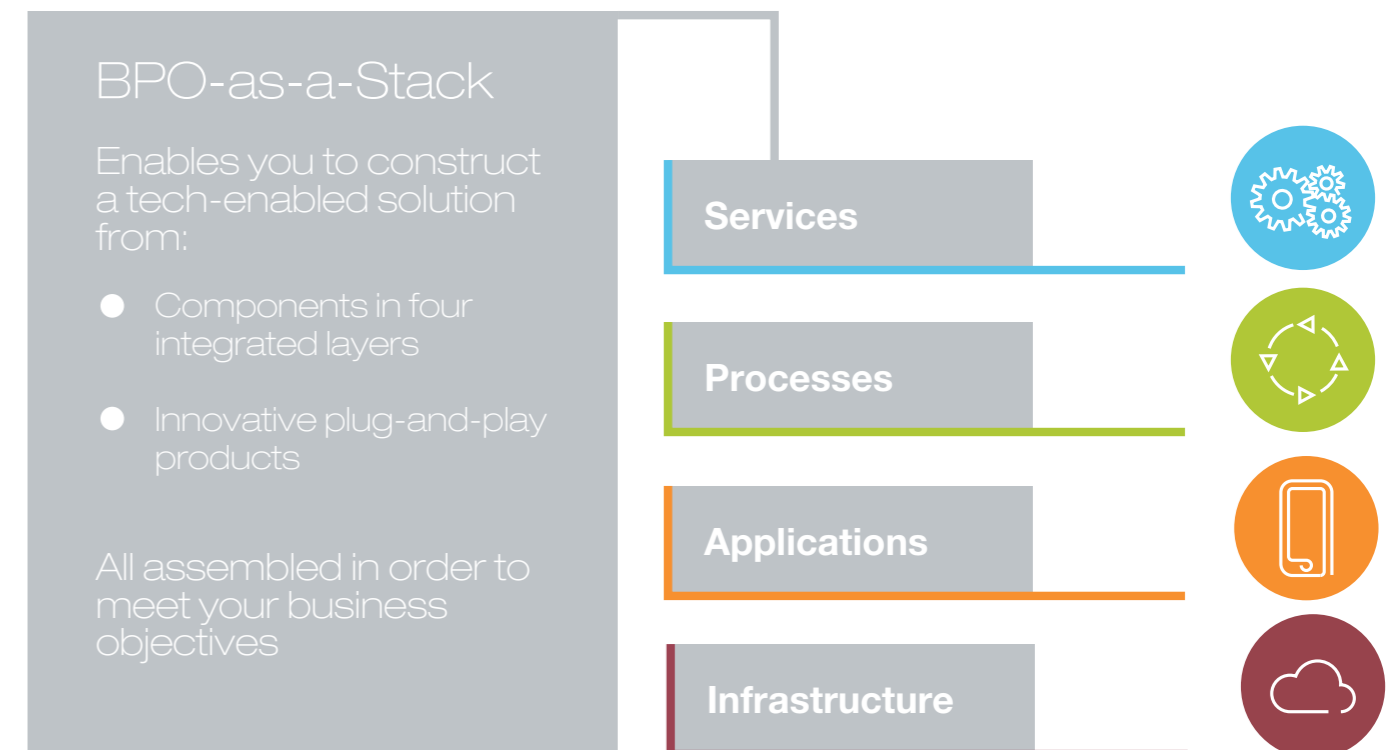

BPO-as-a-Stack with Unit4 Business World

The concept of BPO-as-a-Stack was developed as a response to Capgemini's real-world experience in the marketplace. The Unit4 Business World ERP forms a powerful element of the applications layer of the "as-a-stack" approach, replacing and streamlining legacy ERPs. Your business can benefit from this new, highly integrated approach, which delivers consistent quality of service from disparate components.

We were impressed by Capgemini's collaborative approach and their cultural fit with our business. Capgemini's capabilities in managing multiprocess projects – especially in F&A and tax – were also key factors for us.

Gustavo Guimarães,
Algar Agro CFO

The Virtual Company with Unit4 Business World

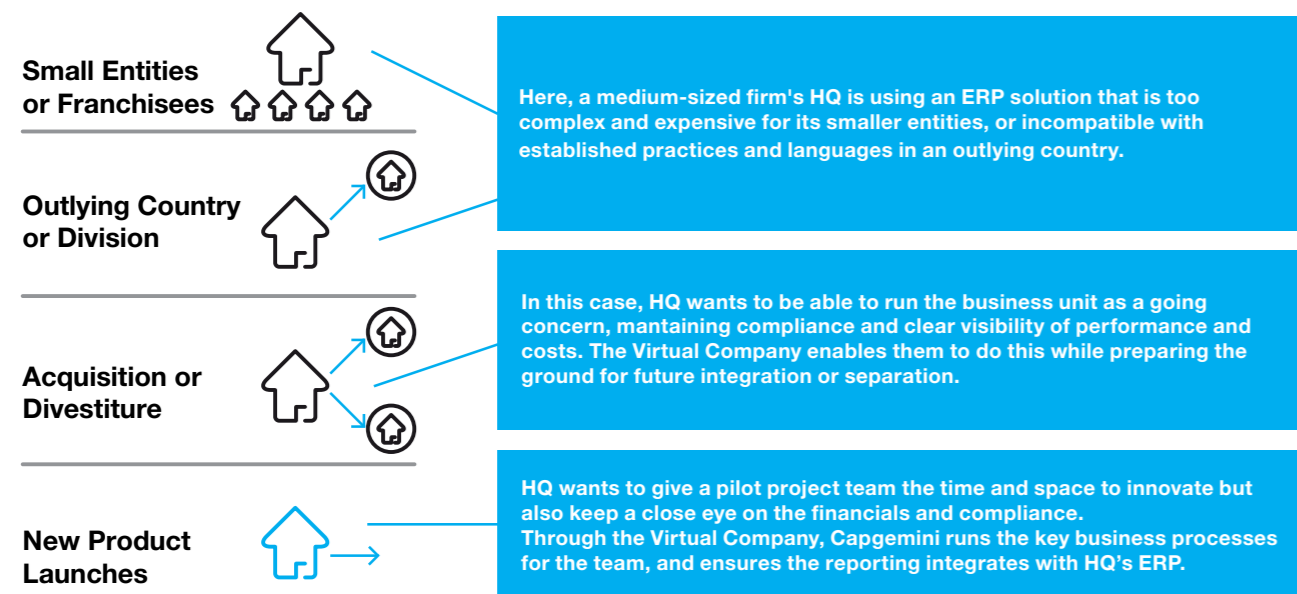

The Virtual Company configuration of “as-a-stack” is an integrated platform to help you achieve a secure, fast start-up of back-office operations – supporting innovation, new business launches, mergers and acquisitions, and new product and market launches.

By incorporating the leading ERP capabilities of Unit4 Business World, the Virtual Company offers you a preconfigured back office in the Cloud. The platform also provides you with a built-in governance, risk and compliance service, to assure governance without compromising innovation.

The kind of Virtual Company solution you can build depends on the specific requirements and needs of your business. Examples of areas in which the Virtual Company can be most beneficial include:

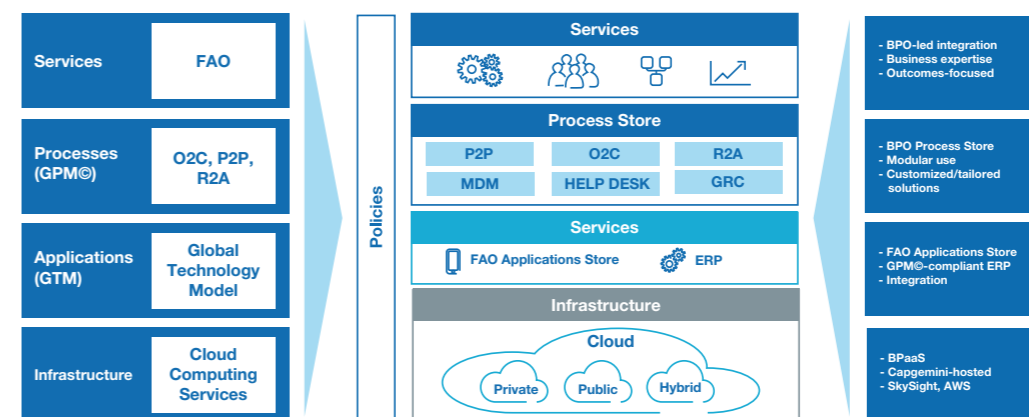

FAO-as-a-Stack with Unit4 Business World
