Achievements

Change-ready
FCA can quickly adapt financial processes to cope with emerging program needs globally.

Increased resilience
The organization is able to adapt faster, remain resilient, and ensure everyone speaks the same language.

Liberates resources
Automates some everyday financial processes, freeing people for the organization’s core mission: aid programs.

The Challenge

FCA relied on different finance systems and tools, causing complexity, delay, and increased cost. A significant amount of manual intervention was required in everyday processes, absorbing precious resources and making it difficult to deliver timely, accurate reporting when the systems didn’t talk to one another.

“How to summarize the value of Unit4 for an organization working in humanitarian and development projects? It allows us to innovate, to consolidate, and to operate transparently.”

Bruno Duréault, Director of Finance and Operational Support, Finn Church Aid
