

Merging businesses without disruption

Bravida is Scandinavia's premier integrated supplier of technical installation and service solutions for buildings and plants.

The Challenge

As a multi-segment professional service organization with disparate locations, Bravida was not consolidated in terms of culture, processes or ERP systems. It needed a solid technical foundation to process all transactions and manage business needs.

Achievements

Change without disruption

Internal IT team managed over 20 mergers without costly external contractors or business disruption.

Strategic growth at strategic speed

Complex organization now underpinned with technology that moves at their speed.

Major project achievements

Merger of Siemens Installation AS was easily managed, bringing together teams and data.

How did Unit4 help?

- Unit4 Business World data model serves as the primary information and reporting hub throughout three countries.
- Pricing, invoicing and reporting are done seamlessly, and in lockstep.
- Handles significant change without major disruption to sync the data pools, people, resources, billings systems, etc.

Financial Management

Field Service Management

Procurement

Project Management

Business World
People Platform

Impacts

100%

Organizational mergers managed without disruption

Savings in external contractors and less business disruption

Strong yet flexible foundation for growth

“Business as usual’ is the top priority for any company operating with multiple moving parts and a changing organizational structure...The [Siemens] merger was done surprisingly fast and smoothly... For us it’s not a surprise that Business World can do this.”

Petter Håkanson

Chief Information Officer, Chief Communications Officer and Chief Business Development Officer