

Meet Wanda, the new face of business software

Wanda is the new face of business software

Wanda is the world's first true enterprise Digital Assistant. Access all your business applications through a conversational interface. Wanda is available any time to answer questions and automates routine operations, and even learns your preferences to become irreplaceable over time.

Communicates with natural language

Wanda is about communication not just software – responding to requests for information, or reminding you of important deadlines; talking the way you talk, and understanding natural language to cut the complexity so you can focus on the most important things.

Makes decisions to support you

Wanda is the most flexible, adaptable digital assistant you've ever met: booking travel. Compiling reports. Entering time. Procuring items. Reporting project status updates. And all done through conversation. So the real question is, what can Wanda do for you to make you more effective, efficient, and productive than ever?

Learns your patterns and behaviours

Wanda is the interface linking all the information in your business systems, and can trigger background workflows to suggest the best course of action. Using the latest innovations in pattern recognition, predictive analytics and sentiment analysis, Wanda can streamline processes, automate tasks, suggest actions, and provide contextually relevant insight.

LEARN MORE AT
unit4.com/meet-wanda